This book deals with predictions about vital global developments over the next few critical decades.

And what makes this book a special contribution is the fact that the forecasts here are based on detailed historical researches and factual evidence.

The book foretells key events with 58 predictions of dramatic political, economic and social changes that may occur, in all probability, between now and the year 2012.

The book helps us to see beyond the crisis of the moment to understand global change strategically.

Here are just a few of the momentous happenings that we will witness as we enter the 21st century:

- *Assassination of a U.S. President.
- *India to be recognised as an emerging key-power of South-East Asia.
- *China to abandon communism.
- *Nazi revival in Germany.

This book is as informative as it is interesting and useful.
