This book is a treasure-trove of 2,000 witty and humorous statements on different aspects of daily life.

What makes this book the only one of its kind in the world, though, is the fact that each of these titbits begins with the word 'IF'.

In the book the author has made amusing, amazing and significant comments on 351 different aspects of human life.

As you read through the book, the author's comments will, in turns, make you grin, guffaw, smirk and laugh.

With the witty statements arranged in alphabetical order, there will never be a dull moment as you breeze through these pages.

Some glimpses:

*Girl:

-If she does not get married early,her age becomes the talk of the town.

-If the girl is the only girl around,but not your girl friend,then you will find her the most beautiful girl.

-If the girl takes a lift in the car of a policeman ,the policeman is surely not on duty.

-If the girl says she wants to spend the rest of her life with the guy she has met,it means she wants to spend a restful life with him.

*Critic:

-If all the authors in the world turn critics,their work would be centred around villains who always keep their heroes in awe.

-If you are not a good writer,better be a critic.

-If you are happy with something you have created,it is time you be your own critic.

-If through his comments the critic does not sound wiser than the author of the book,he has not done his job well.

About the author:

Although a petroleum geologist by profession, M.S. Choubey has always remained a keen student of art and literature.

He has edited two books, The Life Sublime and A Treasury of Humour & Satire and has written a long poem, The December Star.

The book reveals author's sharp wit and his capacity to delve into the innumerable facets of the extremely complex and intriguing nature of human behaviour and then provide his own interpretations in a nutshell.
